

INTEGRATED MARITIME AUDITOR TRAINING

Dates: October 24-26, 2006

Location: Fort Lauderdale, Florida, USA

Aims: The aim of this module is that the trainees acquire and develop detailed knowledge and understanding of the ISM Code, ISPS Code, and auditing techniques, thus being able to carry out simultaneous ISM Code and ISPS Code internal audits to maintain their ships in compliance.

Objectives: This highly interactive, classroom training course will:

- explain the ISM Code's and ISPS Code's background and development, including the special nature in comparison with ISO standards and national standards;
- list the ship types and implementation dates under SOLAS Chapter IX and XI and the relevant certification authority;
- relate the ISM Code's and ISPS Code's purpose and objectives to mandatory compliance and safety/security culture development, and the audits tools needed for monitoring;
- list the key definitions used in the ISM Code, ISPS Code, IMO Guidelines for Administrations on Implementation, and IACS Procedural Guidelines;
- list the ISM Code's and ISPS Code's functional requirements and explain their implications for a company, its fleet, and Contracting Governments; and
- list and explain the ISM Code's and ISPS Code's varied interpretations for ships and port facilities, how they are enforced by Contracting Governments, and the key factors to identify during an integrated safety/security audit.

Instructor: Capt. Jake DesVergers – a certified Lead Auditor for multiple standards, including ISM, ISPS, ISO 9000, ISO 14000, and ISO 18000. A recognized international expert on maritime auditing, he previously served as regional manager and senior lead auditor for the class society Bureau Veritas. Experience with several thousand company and shipboard audits, including extensive interaction with US Coast Guard, European, and Asian port state controls.

Fees: US$ 1495.00. Includes all textbooks, study materials, CD-ROM, examination, certificate, refreshments, and snacks. Group discounts available with five or more students.

Register: Online at our website, by email, or by fax. Registration form is attached.

Questions: Phone 954.449.3444 Fax 954.418.0244 Email info@usmaritimeinstitute.com

www.usmaritimeinstitute.com

ISO 9001:2000 Certified

INTERNATIONAL
MARITIME
AUDITOR
TRAINING